/Zina (FMAX) By kkei Watch 99 Favourites 1K Views from an art donation I made at the past con, this is Mila, and this is Zina of FMAX. I designed the capes using MS paint, making the colors bright and cheerful, although u can still see the old designs, I have updated the sleeves a bit though. This image is for those who have been following DOA since 2001 I really really like how this one turned out, (minus the face of course, that took up to 2 hours still lol) What do you think about the update to the re-usage of the design? I really like the new design, and it pays homage to what Zina used to be in Yosuga no Sora's OVA, so I like it. And finally, do you like Yosuga no Sora? Finally, here are some pictures of Zina from back in 2002 when I drew her as well (yes this is 13 years late XD) The cringy Yosuga no Sora pic And here are some other pics from that day (these were just another series in my sketchbook). I really like it, and hope that those who enjoyed my version of her will also enjoy this one (and I made it for the classic cosplay-style of the old mold, as well as the new style of Gabi). I might go with the updated HGUC mold for more character designs, but I am not sure yet. I really want the updated HGUC mold. It would be great to see HGUC comes back as a vinyl figure. I saw it on a friend's FB page that HGUC could potentially come to life, so it might be a possibility. Thanks again.
