A: If I'm reading your question right, what you want to do is download the matlab installer and run it on your windows machine with the right license key. Now you can download the installer from here:

Q: Returning multiple values in a UDF? How can I return multiple variables or arrays? The documentation for the user-defined functions list the following: For UDFs whose return type is ARRAY, the number of array elements returns is returned in the ARG_LEN argument. For UDFs whose return type is STRING, the length of the returned array is returned in the ARG_LEN argument. In my case, there's a loop in my UDF and I want to save all the resulting strings in arrays. (I should have mentioned that in the beginning, right?) Is this possible, and if so, how do you do it? A: Yes it is possible, but you can't return multiple values. The closest you can get is to use an ARRAY which will return a scalar for each element. This means that you must return an array and therefore the number of array elements you're outputting needs to be 1. Try this: create or replace function oraplg_multi_return(p_str in varchar2, p_in_ty in number, p_out_ty in number, p_rnd in number) return number[] as t varchar2(400); lng int64; begin -- return 1 scalar t := substr(p_str, instr(p_str, ',') + 1); lng := length(t); if lng > 0 then p_out_ty := 1; end if; return t; end; / select aplog_multi_return('a,b,c', 2, 2, 1) from dual; A: You
