February 14, 2022 - Useful if you temporarily disabled real-time protection and want to automatically scan processes that were running when it was disabled. This feature will be useful if you don't want your real-time protection to be active for a long time. If necessary, you can enable or disable it using the Enabled option. By default, you must enable this feature for it to take effect for the duration of your account. Otherwise, if you want to use the Off feature for this period, you can turn it on by setting it to Always.
